

November 2009

Vedat Update

Vedat's physical therapy progress is slow but sustained. He is being challenged to do more and more independently. Praise God, he continues to have a positive, can-do attitude about this hard work.

Vedat has found a new pride in his schoolwork, he LOVES high school and is enjoying being able to do a lot of his school work independently AND receive good grades for his hard work!! He is enjoying learning to play the guitar. God has been using Vedat in a way only God can, and it is encouraging to see Vedat's moral character mature. He is becoming more and more sensitive to God pleasing actions and attitudes in his daily life.

Team members are always needed to help with Vedat. Specifically, drivers are needed to take him to his physical therapy appointments and respite care is needed to provide his host family with periodic breaks. Please refer to Vedat's page on the church website if you are able to assist with any of these needs; www.cbcva.org/vedat.